AgreeYa Solutions Philosophy

As an AgreeYa Solutions (AgreeYa) consultant, I will:

- Conduct myself in ethical and professional manner at AgreeYa , the client site and the client's client site.
- Understand and support the direction of AgreeYa.
- Stay focused and execute my responsibilities in order to get the job done.
- Provide superior service to AgreeYa clients and employees.
- Be flexible, innovative, and responsive to change.
- Be a team player and treat all individuals with dignity and respect.

Punctuality, Attendance, and Absenteeism

Excellent attendance is an essential component of solid performance. You are expected to start your workday on time and be punctual to all appointments/meetings/commitments.

Occasionally, it may be necessary for you to be absent from work as a result of illness, injury, or other personal reasons. If for any reason you are unable to work at your regular starting time, or will be absent you are expected to call your supervisor and notify your HR Specialist. If you must leave work during your regularly scheduled hours, you must notify your supervisor as far in advance as possible.

Appearance and Grooming

In our business we are selling not only our skills but also ourselves. Therefore, it is extremely important that all consultants of AgreeYa present themselves in a professional manner. AgreeYa requires all its employees to maintain a professional, business, or business casual appearance and attire consistent with the normal business dress of our clients. AgreeYa reserves the right to determine what constitutes business casual attire. Consistent abuse of the business casual attire policy can result disciplinary action.

AgreeYa Property

Depending on the project and the client requirement you may be given a laptop or other computer equipment to manage your work at the client site. The laptop and equipment is the property of either the client or AgreeYa and is loaned to the consultant to be used for business purposes only while on assignment. At the end of the project the consultant shall return the laptop and any other computer equipment that was given.

Customer Service and Quality Standards

AgreeYa's continued success is directly dependent upon having satisfied clients. For this reason, it is important that all consultants of AgreeYa understand the necessity of maintaining excellent relationships with our clients.

The existence of excellent customer relations makes friends, prevents misunderstandings, builds morale, improves our performance, and makes our daily jobs more pleasant. Here are a few ways we, as consultants, can help maintain excellent customer service and client relations:

- Be polite at all times, to all people. The importance of this cannot be too highly emphasized.
- Put forth your best “personal image,” such as neat professional dress, a pleasant smile, an interest in your work, and a cooperative attitude toward clients.
- Respect the goal of AgreeYa and the client and follow your Manager’s direction at all time.
- Keep personal conversations outside of the workplace.
- Be aware that your telephone manners are very important. Treat all calls professionally and respectfully - just as you would when meeting face to face.
- Remember that in order to gain and hold the respect of others, you must earn such respect by your own actions. Good reputations are built by the total of many acts, but can be quickly lost by one inconsiderate or thoughtless act.
- Remember personal emails and phone calls are to be made only when outside of the office and only on personal time.
- You are a consultant representing AgreeYa and not allowed to approach the client or client’s client for employment.
- Do not to speak in a language other than that which is understood by all people around you.

HR & Confidential Information

It is important to discuss personnel matters with AgreeYa HR and maintain confidentially at all times. All personal, HR, employment and contract related items (including benefits and rate of pay) must not be discussed with any party, in any forum, besides your AgreeYa HR Specialist. These items should not be discussed with your client manager, client’s client or co-workers. If a co-worker, or anyone outside your AgreeYa team, requests information about your contract please remind them of this policy and explain you are unable to discuss or divulge this information.

Assignment Expectations

You understand it is important to complete your assignment with AgreeYa and its clients. For this reason you agree to complete the term of your assignment as initially agreed to upon starting. If for any reason, you need to leave your assignment prior to completion date, you agree to give at least 2 weeks’ notice to your HR Specialist and direct supervisor.

Electronic Mail & Internet Access & Social Media

All Internet Access through AgreeYa or its customer will be for business as it relates to AgreeYa or its client. The official email access should not be used to send or receive any personal emails. Every consultant with access to electronic mail at AgreeYa or its client is responsible for seeing that the E-mail system is used properly and in accordance with the following policy. Questions concerning this policy should be directed to either your HR Specialist or your direct Supervisor.

1. The e-mail system is part of the business equipment and technology platform and is only to be used for business purposes. Information and messages that are sent or received via E-mail are to be disclosed only to authorized individuals.
2. Messages sent during working hours should be sent only with good business reasons. Copies should be forwarded only for good business reasons.
3. Every Consultant with E-mail has a password to access the account. Every Consultant is responsible for messages that are sent from their accounts. Do not share your e-mail password with anyone. Your account can be accessed by the Network

Administrator at any time for verification that information being created, received, or sent via the E-mail system is being sent for good business reasons, to check that personal E-mail is not being sent during working hours, and to insure that the information contained within personal messages does not compromise, libel, or slander AgreeYa or its client or clients client in any way.

4. All E-mail must follow the company policy banning solicitation and distribution. AgreeYa and its clients take chain letters, pyramid schemes, and other solicitations very seriously.
5. No E-mail that constitutes intimidating, hostile, or offensive material on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, or disability should be created, sent or received. AgreeYa's policy against harassment applies fully to the E-mail system, and any violation of that policy is grounds for discipline up to and including immediate dismissal.
6. Consultants who become aware of misuse of the E-mail system should promptly contact either the Human Resources Department or the Network Administrator.
7. AgreeYa consultants are personally responsible for the content they publish on social networking websites or any other form of user-generated media. It is strictly prohibited to post anything about your client, client's client or project due to confidentiality reasons. Further, it is also prohibited to slander AgreeYa, its clients or it client's client.

Consultants found to be in violation of this policy may face disciplinary actions, up to and including termination.
